THORMAN HUNT

EST. WINE SHIPPERS 1978

Domaine Bruno Sorg

Eguisheim

Pinot Noir

Grower

Renée and Bruno Sorg founded the domaine in 1965 in Ingersheim, near Colmar, and moved it to Bruno's home village of Eguisheim in 1972. In 2004 a new temperature-controlled winery was built just outside the village. Today François Sorg, his wife Régine and their son Antoine, who studied at the École de Beaune, run the domaine. The wines are made only from the domaine's own grapes, and the whole production has always been sold in bottle.

Vineyards

The domaine's vines lie mainly in Eguisheim and Ingersheim, near Colmar, on a wide range of soils: sandstone, clay, limestone, gravel and granite. They are farmed sustainably, with care for biodiversity and the life of the soil, and yields are kept moderate.

Style

A dry Alsace Pinot Noir in the domaine's style: structure and aromatic depth, balanced by finesse.
